3 Application procedure

3.1 First step: Admission/enrollment at UZH

In order to apply to RWF UZH for a place in the Double Degree Master's program, students must first be admitted to a Master's program at the RWF UZH. The Admissions Office of the University of Zurich is responsible for this step.

For the English-language program, students must provide proof of sufficient English language skills at the time of enrollment at UZH. For further information on application and admission to UZH, please visit this website.

3.1.1 Students of RWF UZH

Applicants who are already enrolled in a Bachelor's program at RWF UZH and wish to continue their studies in a Double Degree Master's program must submit an application for a change of program to the desired Double Degree Master's program for the next semester in the student portal. At this point, they select both the desired partner university and the program at RWF UZH.

The online registration period of UZH for fall semester takes place from 15 May – 31 August.

3.1.2 Students from another university

Applicants with a law degree from another university must follow the regular application/enrollment process for admission to a Master's program at RWF UZH.

For information on admission to the Master's program, please contact the UZH Admissions Office. The application period at UZH for fall semester takes place from 1 January – 30 April.

3.2 Second step: Application for a study place in a Double Degree program at RWF UZH

After (conditional) admission to the Master's program at UZH, applicants must submit a complete online application including all relevant documents to the Student Center of RWF UZH for allocation of a place in a Double Degree Master's program. Applicants may apply for up to three partner universities, prioritizing their choice. The application portal can be found on our website at the bottom under “Apply now”.

The following mandatory documents must be submitted online:

- Complete application form for the allocation of a place on a Double Degree Master's program;

- Letter of motivation in the respective language of instruction of the partner faculty, for each desired partner faculty;
- Curriculum vitae (with photo) in the respective language of instruction of the desired partner faculty;
- Copy of the Bachelor's degree (or Transcript of Records if the Bachelor's degree has not yet been awarded);
- Copy of the Admissions Office's letter regarding the (conditional) admission to the Master's program;
- Copy of the passport or identity card;
- Proof of language skills (copy of online test results is sufficient for the application), exception: Maastricht University

The following documents are optional:

- Proof of other relevant (i.e. legal) qualifications, e.g. work references, recommendation letters

The RWF UZH application period for the Double Degree Master's programs is 1 July – 15 August.

- Exception: Applicants with foreign previous education from countries requiring a visa are recommended to apply from 1 July – 31 July.

3.3 Allocation of study places

The respective Steering Committee of the Faculty of Law selects students on the basis of the written applications and individual selection interviews. In case of sufficient qualification, the individual selection interview may not be necessary.

Study places are allocated based on the following criteria:

- average grade of Bachelor's degree or previous academic achievements;
- knowledge of the language of instruction;
- the student's motivation to study presented in the letter of motivation and during the interview; and
- additional relevant qualifications for the Double Degree Master's program (e.g. work references, legal internships)

The minimum requirements are as follows:

- minimum average grade of 4.7 (or deviating requirements of the partner faculties); and
- Bachelor of Law degree within 5 years

The selection interview may be a decisive factor for the allocation of a study place. The provisional dates of the selection interviews are published in advance on the Internet. The invitations to the individual selection interviews are sent by e-mail.

Applicants who cannot be assigned a study place at a partner faculty of the Double Degree Master's program will be transferred to the desired regular Master's program or de-registered upon request after completion of the selection process.

For applicants who had aimed for a Master of Law in English, a transfer to a Master's program in German is only possible if sufficient German language skills can be proven.

If the study place is allocated to the second or third priority, the transfer to the respective study program will be arranged.

The final decision on the allocation of study places in a Double Degree Master's program will be communicated to the applicants by e-mail by the beginning of October at the latest.

Please note:

With the allocation of a study place to one of the Double Degree partner faculties, the enrollment in the Double Degree Master's program becomes definite.

The allocation of a place in a Double Degree Master's program by RWF UZH is subject to admission by the respective partner faculties. Applicants nominated for the Double Degree program undergo a further registration process at the partner universities, which, however, does not constitute an additional application procedure.⁴

⁴ Exception: LL.M. in Public International Law and LL.M. in International Trade and Investment Law at the University of Amsterdam. Students interested in these two study programs must undergo an additional application procedure at UvA.

4 Study program at RWF UZH

4.1 Duration and start of studies

The Double Degree Master's Program generally lasts for four semesters. Students spend two semesters each at RWF UZH and at the partner faculty (exception: study program at the Berkeley School of Law).

The start of studies at RWF UZH is always in fall semester. It is not possible to start the program in spring semester. Master's modules can be booked prior to the start of the Double Degree Master's program, but the duration of studies is always at least 4 semesters, regardless of how many Master's modules have been completed.

4.2 Course content

The study program at RWF UZH comprises study achievements in the amount of 60 ECTS credits according to the Study Regulations for the Double Degree Master's programs (StudO DD RWF).

Students at RWF UZH can choose between the two following study programs:

- Study program Rechtswissenschaft (mostly in German)
- Study program International and Comparative Law (exclusively in English)

Each study program at a partner faculty is determined by the relevant regulations of the faculty in question. Coursework completed at the partner faculties is taken into account in the UZH degree by means of a general transfer of 30 ECTS credits. For information on the different study programs of the partner universities, please consult the websites of the respective partner universities.

In addition, you will find a flyer with a useful overview of the study program for each partner university on our website under Partner Faculties.

4.3 Language

Classes and exams at RWF UZH take place in German and English or exclusively in English. Classes and exams at the partner faculties take place primarily in the language of instruction of the faculty in question.

4.4 Enrollment and study fees

Students are principally regularly enrolled at RWF UZH during the whole program (at least four semesters). The tuition fees of RWF UZH are cancelled for the semesters spent at the partner faculty. The tuition fees at the partner faculty are determined by the relevant agreement of RWF UZH with the partner faculty. For more information on tuition fees at the partner faculties please also refer to the flyers on our website.

4.5 Application for the Master's degree – Graduation

Double Degree students can apply for their UZH Master's degree in the fourth semester if they have successfully completed their study program in Zurich and at the partner university according to the StudO DD RWF. The date of conferral of the RWF UZH Master's diplomas depends on the awarding of diplomas by the partner faculties. Depending on the partner faculty, delays can occur.

All relevant information concerning the graduation process (including deadlines) can be found here.
