3 Your stay at the Faculty of Law UZH

3.1 About the Faculty of Law

Founded over 175 years ago, the Faculty of Law of the University of Zurich (RWF UZH) is now one of the largest law faculties in Europa with enrollment currently standing at approx. 3,900 students. The students are supervised by around 50 professors and numerous other staff members. Each year about 150 mobility students come to RWF UZH from law faculties all over the world.

Under the Bologna system, academic achievement is usually tested each year and accounted for as ECTS credits. After three years of successful study the first law degree is attained with the Bachelor of Law UZH (BLaw UZH), which is usually supplemented by the Master of Law UZH (MLaw UZH Rechtswissenschaften or MLaw UZH International and Comparative Law) after one and half years of further study.

3.2 The Chairs

Professors usually hold a chair. For information regarding the content of the courses the chairs must be contacted directly.

Various materials for the courses (scripts, slides, podcasts, etc.) are published on the websites of the chairs.

A listing of all chairs and the links to the individual websites can be found at:

<https://www.ius.uzh.ch/de/staff/professorships.html>

3.3 ECTS Credits

ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System) is a system that regulates the accumulation and transfer of credits earned for coursework. This system encourages transparency within the European higher education area and fosters student mobility within Europe.

At UZH, 1 ECTS credit point represents a workload of 30 hours. Credits are only awarded if you pass an examination or have other work officially recognized. The grading scale ranges from 1 to 6, where 6 represents the highest grade and 4 the pass mark.

3.4 UniAccess

You should have received your matriculation number, your „shortname“ and your password from the GSE or the Student Administration Office.

Example:

Matriculation number:	12-345-678
Fullname:	FristnameLastname
UniAccess-ID:	Shortname
Uni shortname password:	*****
Uni-E-mail address:	firstname.lastname@uzh.ch

At present, the shortname can be used to gain access to the following services:

- UZH AD (Windows domains, public workstations)
- VPN (remote access VPN)
- WebPass (UZH web services)
- WLAN (UZH wireless LAN, eduroam, network workstations)
- AAI-login (Authentication and Authorization Infrastructure for Swiss Institutes of Higher Education)
- OLAT (Online Learning and Training)

Please keep your password in a safe place! Once it has been changed, neither the Student Center of the Faculty of Law of the University of Zurich nor the GSE or the Student Administration Office will be able to help you.

ATTENTION

Please note that you will receive important documents related to your studies to your uzh e-mail address.

The Student Center sends e-mails to the e-mail address provided by the mobility students on the registration forms.

Check your e-mail accounts regularly!

3.5 Courses

3.5.1 Courses conducted in Fall Semester 2024

In the fall semester 2024, the courses will take place on site.

3.5.2 Terminology

The courses are offered each semester in the form of lectures, exercises and seminars. Modules consist of lectures or exercise.

- Modules

Modules may consist of a combination of courses, such as a lecture and an exercise. The required workload is made up of the time spent in class as well as time spent in self-study (reading, preparing for an exam, writing a paper). Modules usually extend over one or two semesters. You receive a fixed number of ECTS credits for a passed module. A module is considered to have been passed if the corresponding assessment has been successfully completed. Types of assessment include, for example, written or oral examinations, presentations, written papers, etc.

- Lectures

A lecture is a teaching method conducted by an instructor in which an aspect of law is systematically examined. Lectures form the basis and starting point for dealing with a subject and are the most important and most frequent type of course at the Faculty of Law.

- Exercises

The purpose of exercises (Übungen) is the development of knowledge and skills gained in a field, as well as applying abstract concepts to concrete facts by working on problems derived from practical situations. Attending an exercise only makes sense when you are thoroughly prepared and able to take active part in discussions.

- Seminars

Seminars are used to apply an academic approach to defined problems within a specialized field. Each semester, about ten to twenty seminars (sometimes organized as block courses lasting several days) are offered in various fields. Participation in a seminar is based on a paper about a specific topic. During a seminar, you will be expected to participate actively and to prepare a presentation on the topic under consideration.

Seminars are often conducted outside of the premises of the university and are in some cases therefore associated with additional expenses that must be paid by the students themselves.

ATTENTION: Registration for seminars takes place in the previous semester! For a seminar taking place in spring semester, students have to register in the previous semester, i.e. fall semester.

Mobility students may register for a maximum of one seminar. Seminars have a limited number of places available. For this reason, participation in a seminar cannot be guaranteed.

3.5.3 Online Course Catalogue

All courses offered by the Faculty of Law and other faculties at the UZH are available in the online course catalogue. The course catalogue for fall semester 2024 is available on this website:

<https://studentservices.uzh.ch/uzh/anonym/vvz/index.html?sap-language=EN&sap-ui-language=EN#/2024/003>

The individual modules are listed in the course catalogue. By clicking on a module, you receive detailed information on it, in particular the listings for the associated course(s). By clicking on a course again, you receive information on the content, instructor, room, and deadlines. In addition, students must select the respective modules for the module booking via the course catalogue.

3.5.4 Course selection

Mobility students have the opportunity to attend and be assessed for courses from the entire RWF UZH Bachelor's and Master's curriculum.

All mobility students can freely arrange their own study schedule. No rules or regulations exist on the part of RWF UZH with regard to:

- minimum number of ECTS credits or
- compulsory modules.

We recommend completing a minimum of 12 ECTS credits per semester.

Mobility students are, however, subject to the regulations and obligations of their home universities. It is therefore of the utmost importance that students arrange their study plan with their home faculty.

ATTENTION:

It lies within your own responsibility to arrange a course schedule and examination schedule without collisions!

3.5.5 Modules offered by other faculties at the UZH

If you are interested in taking courses which are not offered by the Faculty of Law, please contact the responsible coordinator at the faculty of interest in order to book the module and register for the examinations.

In the online course catalogue you will find information on which faculty is offering a module under „Organization“.

3.5.6 Learning Agreements

Learning Agreements between you and your home faculty have to be signed by the Student Center in most cases. The Learning Agreement can be sent by contact form to the Student Center.

3.5.7 Course materials

Various materials for the lectures will be published by the instructor on the websites of their chairs or on OLAT. You will find a list of all chairs and the individual links to the websites here: <http://www.ius.uzh.ch/staff/professorships.html>

OLAT: www.olat.uzh.ch

4 Module Booking and Examinations

4.1 In General

The module booking refers to exam registration. Module booking is done via the student portal: <https://www.students.uzh.ch/en.html>

Modules are differentiated according to booking type:

- Booking modules = Modules with no study place restriction. These modules, can be booked directly by students.
- Request or application modules = Modules where the number of available study places is restricted. Students submit a request within the request period. In the case of request modules, places are allocated automatically (the study place allocation criteria are published in the course catalogue). In the case of application modules, places are allocated manually by the chair.

If you would like to attend a lecture without taking an examination, you are free to do so. In this case, you may not book the module, as booking the module automatically leads to a binding examination registration.* Please note that no ECTS credits or certificates of attendance can be issued by the UZH Faculty of Law for attending courses without taking an examination

More information on module booking can be found on this website:

<https://www.ius.uzh.ch/en/studies/mobility/international/uzh/bookingexams.html>

4.2 Examinations in Fall Semester 2024

The oral and written regular examinations in the fall semester 2024 will be held on site. The oral regular examinations can be conducted online upon request and exclusively for mobility students.

* Exceptions to this rule are annual modules that are explicitly labelled "no examination registration". Booking these modules is not sufficient for exam registration.

4.3 Types of Examinations

The following types of examinations are offered at the Faculty of Law UZH for mobility students:

1. Regular written examinations
2. Regular oral examinations
3. Oral mobility examinations
4. Written mobility examinations
5. Papers, presentations etc.

Usually, all students take regular written or oral examinations. However, in some modules so called mobility examinations are offered.

What are mobility examinations?

Mobility examinations are special examinations offered for mobility students only. It is up to the instructor to decide whether he or she offers a mobility examination instead of a regular examination for the mobility students. There is no obligation to offer a mobility examination.

Mobility students are not entitled to a mobility examination or re-taking a mobility examination they have failed. If there is no mobility examination offered in a module you will have to sit the regular examination.

On the examinations website of the Faculty of Law UZH you may find a list of mobility exams for the current semester.

IMPORTANT:

Mobility examinations cannot be transferred to a degree at the Faculty of Law UZH. If you would like to enroll in the Bachelor of Law or Master of Law study program, please note that mobility examinations will not be accredited to your degree.

IMPORTANT:

If you take regular examinations and enroll in a regular Bachelor's or Master's degree program at RWF UZH at a later date, not only the examinations you have passed, but also those you have failed will be credited towards your degree. This means that the total number of permitted failed attempts will be reduced accordingly.
